

THE SITE, THE WAY YOU PRINT.

Forty years of shirts and a website that never asked anyone for a job. We built a new one that does, and a back room where the shop can see it all. Everything on it bends to how you actually work. This page is the idea, the next two are the questions.

OUT FRONT

THE SITE

Your photos, your voice, one red. People can send art, ask for a run, see the work and find the shop. Runs start at the blank, with the real catalog colors. Prints you already have screens for can sell straight off the rack. Nothing on it is stock.

BACKSTAGE

THE BACK ROOM

Every request lands in one place. Start a run from it, add the garments, send a quote. The customer taps accept on their phone and you are told. Stock on the shelf with initials on every move. Customers with history. Notes to the crew. Everything priced by you, in the app, any time.

FLEXIBLE ON PURPOSE

This is a custom build, not a template, with a back end anyone on the crew can use. Words, prices, photos, colors, what is on the menu, all of it changes from Backstage. If you ever want the front of the site to move, we build that in too. It is made to be tailored to the way your day already runs, not the other way around.

FINDING THE JOBS YOU LIKE

Tell us the kind of order you enjoy most and we point the site at it. Backstage gets a small marketing corner that shows what people looked at and asked for, so the shop can see which door they came through and go find more of the same.

NOT A PITCH

This is a local handoff, one Ridgway business helping another. The site is built and running on a test address. What we need from you fits on the next two pages, and none of it is technical.

NINE THINGS, THEN WE BUILD THE REST.

Short answers are great. Long ones are better. Write on this, email it back, or just call and talk through it with us.

01 THE JOB YOU LOVE PRINTING MOST

Festival lines, band merch, a school, a brewery, a fundraiser. The one you would take every week if you could. We will aim the site at it.

02 HOW FAR YOU WANT TO REACH

Just Ridgway and the valley, all of Colorado, or shipping nationwide for the bigger runs. This decides a lot about what the site says.

03 PHOTOS AND ART

Full size photos of the work and the shop, the logo files, and if you have them, a few favorite jobs as color separations. That is what makes the site look like you and gives us things worth sharing.

04 HOW A JOB MOVES TODAY

From the first call to the last box. What works, what is a pain, what you would never change.

05 YOUR MINIMUM, AND TURNAROUND

The smallest run worth doing, normal turnaround, and what rush costs.

06 PRICES, AND WHAT CHANGES THEM

Unit prices by quantity and colors, the upcharge above 2XL, design and separations, screens. Rough is fine, every number is editable later.

07 GETTING PAID

Invoice, deposit up front, card at pickup, Stripe or Square. Whatever you do now.

08 WHO ANSWERS, AND WHO NEEDS A LOGIN

Where requests should land, who reads the inbox, and who on the crew should have a Backstage login.

09 THE CALENDAR AND THE RACK

Festivals and events you print for each year. Printed stock, seconds or overruns you would sell online as random sizes, no returns.

THEN WHAT

Send this back any way you like, a photo of it is fine. We fold the answers into the site, walk you through Backstage in person, and move the web address when you say go. Call or write any time, tyler@neonburro.com.
